

SEC RULE 607 ORDER DISCLOSURE

The U.S. Securities and Exchange's Rule 607 ("Rule 607") requires broker-dealers, such as Lime Trading Corp., to disclose its payment for order flow practices. Lime Trading Corp. receives compensation for directing customer orders to certain broker-dealers or market centers for execution. The details of these payments are available upon written request.